

SHERPA

Final Conference 2023

1-2 June 2023

Hosted by

European Committee of the Regions

SHERPA has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 Research and Innovation Programme under Grant Agreement No. 862448. The content of the document does not reflect the official opinion of the European Union. Responsibility for the information and views expressed therein lies entirely with the author(s).

SESSION 3: Science-Society-Policy interfaces

#SHERPAConference

Valuable experiences in rural areas

Grounding the dialogue in science-based evidence

Isolina Rodríguez - MAP Galicia

How to create meaningful dialogue

Anne-Liisi Mändmets – MAP Estonia

Influencing policy

Olga Kriezi MAP central Greece

Lessons learned and achievements

Influencing policy

Olga Kriezi

MAP Central Greece

MAP Central Greece (Greece)

MAP Members

- Science: 2
- Society: 3
- Policy: 4

Lessons learnt along the way...

Lesson learnt 1 – Be prepared prior to the meetings, be aware for the limited time schedule, visualize the subject, questions/answers

Lesson learnt 2 – Keep your ear to the ground – stay in tune to the MAP members and their interests

Lesson learnt 3 – Find the right balance - keep MAP members interested and engaged without exhausting them

Lesson Learnt 4 – Involve external expertise for new topics & themes – find inspirational superwomen & men – showcase successful case studies

Achievements

Achievement 1 – create a dialogue and capture diverse opinions between different societal actors and governance levels

Achievement 2 – keep people engaged and motivated for future research activities

Achievement 3 - ensure the results are correctly considered and showcase to MAP members the outcomes of the project.

